Audit Objectives and Records Subject to Review

Note: The statements in this booklet are general and are current as of the date on the cover. The Revenue and Taxation Code sections governing the taxes and fees discussed in this publication are complex and subject to change. If there is a conflict between the law and this booklet, any decisions will be based on the law and not this booklet.

1. Introduction

The information in this pamphlet explains what you should expect from an audit and how you can prepare to make it easier for you and the auditor. It also discusses how to appeal an audit if you disagree with the results.

In general, accounts are subject to audits in three-year intervals, at the time a permit or license is closed out, or in connection with an audit of another permit or license held by the taxpayer or feepayer. Audits may also be initiated as a result of information received from outside sources.

It is important to remember that the conduct of audits is governed by law and Board policy. In particular, you should keep in mind that

- Board auditors will impartially determine whether you have reported the correct amount of taxes or fees. Overpayments, as well as underpayments, are considered during an audit.
- The Board's audit program is intended to correct errors that result in underreporting or overreporting and to inform you how to properly report your taxes or fees. During an audit, you may ask any questions you have about the law governing taxes or fees or your reporting requirements.
- Board auditors are expected to conduct audits in a professional, courteous and helpful manner.
- Frequently, audits do not result in any change in tax or fee liability.

Because audits will vary depending on the type or size of a business and the issues involved, this pamphlet is not intended as a comprehensive guide. For more detailed information, you may contact the department that administers the tax or fee for which you have questions (see pages 9-10 for telephone numbers). If you are scheduled for an audit, you should direct your questions to the auditor assigned to your account.

When using this pamphlet for tax programs other than sales and use tax, please note that there may be minor differences in some procedures, or that another state agency may be involved in your audit (see page 9 for listing of other tax programs).

You should expect courteous and professional treatment in an audit.

2. Audit Objective

The objective of an audit is to verify that you have correctly reported taxes or fees on your returns. The table on pages 11-20 describes what the auditor needs to determine and the types of records that will be examined based on the type of tax or fee under consideration.

In a sales and use tax audit, for example, the auditor wants to determine the following about the returns you have filed:

- Did you report all gross receipts from sales of tangible personal property and taxable labor and services?
- Did you report the cost of all business equipment and supplies that you purchased without tax either from out-of-state vendors or for resale?
- Did you properly claim deductions?
- Did you properly allocate local tax?

- Did you use the correct rate of tax when reporting sales in special tax districts?
- Did you properly apply tax to your sales and uses of tangible personal property?

The auditor's goal is to answer these questions as accurately as possible in the minimum amount of time.

3. Preliminary Arrangements

Initial Contact

As a matter of policy, we rarely start an audit without prior notice. We have found that audits tend to be completed more efficiently when businesses have time to prepare.

Initial contact is usually by phone. If unable to reach you by phone, the auditor may write or visit your business location. During the initial contact, the auditor will tell you the audit period (usually three years) and will ask about your business operations, including the type of records that you keep. The auditor will also tell you what records you should have ready for the audit and will ask about a convenient date and location to begin the audit.

If you want the audit handled by an authorized representative, such as your accountant or bookkeeper, you should tell the auditor during this initial contact. He or she can then arrange an appointment with your representative.

If the audit appointment is made by phone, you will be sent a letter confirming the start date of the audit, as well as a copy of Board publication 70, The California Taxpayers' Bill of Rights.

Scheduling an Appointment

Auditors can be flexible about the starting date and location of an audit. Normally, you can have up to two or three weeks to prepare. If you feel more time is needed, you can ask for a longer delay.

Delays and Waivers: The auditor may request that you sign a Waiver of Limitation for significant delays. This is a document extending the legal requirements that additional taxes or fees be determined within a prescribed three-year period. It also permits you to file a claim for refund for the period covered by the waiver. If you request a delay and there is a credit or refund involved, the auditor may also request that you sign a Waiver of Credit Interest. If you have questions about either waiver form, you should discuss them with the auditor.

Although the Board prefers to conduct the audit at your business location, it can be performed elsewhere. For example, the audit could be carried out at an accountant's office or at a Board location.

If the audit is at your business, you should provide a space with a work surface, an electrical outlet and adequate light. If it is necessary to have the audit at the Board office, you will be required to leave all the needed records at the office and accept a receipt for them. Even when the audit is not at your business location, the auditor may still request a tour of your premises to get a better understanding of your operations.

Board audits are rarely started without prior notice.

Records That Will Be Reviewed

The types of records the auditor will review depends on the tax or fee program for which the audit is being conducted. Please refer to the appendix, pages 11-20, for examples of the records the auditor will need to review and for information on what the auditor will try to determine based on his or her examination of those records.

All records, even those you consider confidential, must be made available for review if they have information about your tax or fee liability. If you refuse to provide your records, the Board may issue a subpoena. To protect your privacy, Board employees are forbidden by law to divulge information obtained during an audit to any unauthorized persons. Board employees who violate this law are subject to internal discipline and criminal prosecution.

Common Problems With Records

If you have lost or have not kept all of the records mentioned on pages 11 through 20, tell the auditor what records you do have. The auditor may be able to obtain enough information from the available records. If not, you may be required to reconstruct the missing records or the auditor may need to estimate the missing information (in some cases, records can be reconstructed from information supplied by suppliers or customers). You should also remember that if you are found to owe additional taxes or fees because of inadequate record keeping, you may be charged a 10 percent negligence penalty.

Board audits usually cover three years; so you may have some of your records in storage. Whether you should remove the records from storage will depend on the auditor's need for them. Often, records can be left at the storage location if they can be easily retrieved when requested by the auditor.

Discussion with the Auditor

Before starting the review of your records, the auditor will usually have some questions about your business operations and accounting methods. You should answer these questions as completely as possible. A full understanding of your business and accounting records will enable the auditor to more quickly and accurately complete the audit.

4. Examination and Testing

The auditor usually starts the audit with a preliminary examination of your records. This examination gives the auditor some idea of what records are available and the procedures you use to record your transactions.

The auditor then performs some tests to determine if a complete audit is needed. For a sales tax audit, for example, the auditor may compare

- The total sales recorded on your books to the total sales reported on your sales tax returns
- The total sales recorded on your books to the total sales on your income tax returns
- The sales tax reimbursement you collected to the tax reported on your returns
- Claimed sales for resale to resale certificates

The auditor might also spot-check your purchase invoices for equipment or supplies purchased without tax or might test your achieved markup on cost.

If preliminary tests indicate possible reporting errors, a more complete review may be required.

See the appendix, pages 11-20, for examples of the types of documents reviewed for tax and fee programs other than sales and use taxes.

Based on a brief review of your records, the auditor may feel an audit is not needed. If this is the case, you will receive a notice waiving the audit. This notice does not constitute written advice that you are reporting tax correctly.

In-Depth Review

If the tests of your records indicate possible reporting errors, the auditor may decide that a more complete examination is needed. This examination could be on an actual basis (looking at every transaction) or on a sample basis (looking at selected transactions).

For a sample-basis audit, the auditor generally tries to use a statistical sample. Under this method, the auditor randomly selects enough transactions to enable him or her to draw a conclusion about all of the transactions under review. For example, an auditor may randomly select invoices for a portion of your sales to determine how accurately you have reported tax on all of your sales. If your records are not suitable for a statistical sample, the auditor may use some other sampling method. In general, if an auditor is going to use a sampling method, he or she should discuss the sampling elements with you before finalizing the plan.

Whether the auditor reviews your records on an actual or sample basis depends on the type, size, complexity, and accounting methods of your business. Sampling is normally used when an actual basis review would take too much time. In many cases, the auditor will use both methods on the same audit. For example, he or she may review your asset purchases on an actual basis and use a sample to review sales.

In addition to sampling, the auditor may use a variety of other methods to review your records. The auditor can answer any questions that you or your authorized representative may have about audit methods and procedures. You may also contact the auditor's supervisor for answers to your questions if you believe the auditor has not adequately addressed your concerns.

You should let the auditor know about any disagreements you have with the audit findings. In many cases, you can resolve those disagreements by providing the auditor with more information.

5. Audit Findings

At the exit conference, the auditor will explain any changes in your tax or fee liability.

Exit Conference

When the audit is complete, the auditor will arrange to hold an exit conference with you and/or your authorized representative. The auditor's supervisor may also attend. At this conference, the auditor will explain any proposed refunds or additional taxes or fees or let you know that your returns have been accepted as filed.

Even if you have a representative, you should consider attending the exit conference. It will give you a chance to fully review the audit working papers. You can also ask any additional questions you have about the audit process and obtain information about how the law applies to your business. This information may help you to properly report taxes or fees in the future.

The auditor is required to provide you copies of the audit working papers. They will normally include an indexed set of schedules prepared by the auditor documenting the tests and examination procedures used in the audit. The audit working papers should also include the auditor's narrative comments describing your records, explaining the purposes of the tests conducted, and interpreting the findings of the tests.

You should let the auditor know if you disagree with the audit findings. As explained later, you will be given an opportunity to discuss your reasons with the auditor's supervisor or another Board representative.

Notice of Audit Results

If the auditor determines you do not owe taxes or fees, or you are not entitled to a refund, you will receive a letter stating that your returns have been accepted as filed.

If the auditor determines that you owe taxes or fees, or are entitled to a refund, he or she will prepare a Report of Field Audit or a Report of Investigation that summarizes those findings. If you have indicated you agree with the audit findings, the report will be reviewed for accuracy and sent to our Sacramento headquarters for action. Based on the audit findings, you will later receive

- A Notice of Determination (billing) or
- A Notice of Refund

See page 7 for more information on each type of notice and your appeal rights.

Note: You should keep your copies of the audit report and the audit working papers for at least four years.

If You Disagree with the Audit Results

If you indicate you disagree with the audit results, the auditor will generally defer preparing the final audit report until you have provided information to support your argument. You should clearly explain why you disagree and ask the auditor about the documentation you need to support your position. Once the auditor has considered your reasons and documentation, he or she may:

- Adjust the audit results;
- Request more information and arrange for another discussion; or

- Recommend the next step in resolving the dispute: discussion with the audit supervisor.

Discussion with the Audit Supervisor

The auditor will tell the supervisor that you want to discuss the audit, and the supervisor will call you to schedule a meeting. At this meeting, you may explain why you disagree with the audit results and suggest what should be done to resolve the disagreement. You should also present any documents that support your position.

After considering your reasons, the supervisor will decide whether the audit results should be adjusted and will discuss any proposed adjustments with you. You should let the auditor know if you still disagree with the findings.

Following the meeting, the auditor will prepare the Report of Field Audit or Report of Investigation that summarizes the final audit findings. If the report notes you do not agree with the audit results, you will be given the opportunity to meet with a Board representative to discuss your disagreement.

Discussion with a Board Representative

If the report notes that you do not agree with the audit results, it will usually not be sent to the Sacramento headquarters immediately. Instead, you will receive a letter that gives you ten days to make an appointment with the Board representative identified in the letter.

Please note: If you do not respond within ten days, we will assume that you agree with the audit and the Report of Field Audit or Report of Investigation will be sent to our headquarters office in Sacramento for processing.

Since this discussion is the last step before you receive a billing or refund notice, you should present any information that you feel can resolve the disagreement. As with the meeting with the audit supervisor, the Board representative may recommend a change to your tax refund or tax liability if the information you provide at that time is found acceptable. Any proposed adjustments will be discussed with you. Next, the Board representative will review the issues involved to determine whether the audit is correct and then will recommend that a Notice of Determination or Notice of Refund be issued.

Prepaying a Liability

Whether you agree or disagree with the audit findings, you may wish to prepay the proposed liability to avoid the added cost of accruing interest. For sales and use tax liabilities, payments are first applied to the amount of tax owed. Interest will continue to accrue on the amount of tax still owed. Once the tax amount is paid in full, interest will stop accruing. However, payments on motor vehicle fuel tax liabilities are applied first to interest charges, then penalty charges (if any), and last to the tax amount due. Therefore, for fuel tax liabilities, the entire liability must be paid to stop interest from accruing. You may prepay the liability, or a portion of the liability, prior to receipt of a billing notice. Form BOE-1, Audit Payment Information, available from your auditor or from the Board, contains more information on prepayments. Please note, the Board does not presume that prepayment of the liability indicates your agreement with the audit results.

Interest charges continue to accrue
for the unpaid portion of your liability.

6. Billing or Refund Notice

Notice of Determination (billing)

If you receive a Notice of Determination indicating that you owe additional taxes or fees, please note the issue date. Within 30 days of that date, you must either

- Pay the billed amount, or
- File an appeal (“petition for redetermination”) if you disagree with the billing.

If you do not take either action within that time period, you will be assessed a penalty equal to ten percent of the unpaid taxes or fees due. If you do not pay the billed amount, the Board may take collection actions, including filing liens or levies. (For information on the collection process, please order publication 54, Tax Collection Procedures.)

If you miss the 30-day deadline, you cannot file a petition for redetermination and must pay the billed amount. However, you can “appeal” your payment by filing a claim for refund for each payment. For more information, you should request a copy of publication 17, Appeals Procedures (see next page).

Note—Interest Charges

If you appeal the Notice of Determination (that is, you file a petition for redetermination), you should consider paying the billed tax or fee amount, or at least the undisputed portion, before your appeal is resolved. This is because interest charges continue to accrue on any unpaid portion of the tax or fee. If you are successful in your appeal, any overpaid tax or fee will be refunded with interest. Although the majority of petitions are decided in less than a year from the date the petition is first acknowledged, some cases may take several years to be resolved. If you think you may have difficulty paying a determination, please contact your local Board office.

You may call the Information Center, 800-400-7115, or check our website for information on the current interest rates for unpaid liabilities and refunds. You can also call the Information Center for information on the status of your appeal or to request the amount of interest that has accumulated to date.

Notice of Refund

Before any refund can be issued, Board staff must first determine whether you have an outstanding tax liability with the Board or any other state agency. If you do have such a liability, the Board may be required to transfer enough of the refund amount to cover it. In addition, refunds over $50,000 must be approved by the Members of the Board of Equalization. When an approved refund is $50,000 or less, Board Headquarters staff normally issues a Notice of Refund. A warrant for the refund amount will be issued by the State Controller and sent with the notice. This usually occurs four to eight weeks after receipt of the Report of Field Audit.

If you believe you are entitled to a larger refund, you must file a claim for refund with the Board. For more information, request a copy of publication 17, Appeals Procedures (see next page).

7. Further Appeals Procedures (Publication 17)

The steps involved in an appeal after this point are explained more fully in publication 17, Appeals Procedures: Sales and Use Taxes and Special Taxes. If you have not already received a copy, you should ask the auditor for one. You can also have a copy mailed to you by calling our Information Center, 800-400-7115. Or you can download a copy from our website, www.boe.ca.gov.

If you do appeal, you should carefully read all notices and letters sent by the Board. Failure to respond within stated time limits can result in denial of your appeal.

While you are pursuing an appeal, you may be able to propose a settlement of your case. See publication 17 for more information on the Board's settlement program.

Written Tax Advice

For your protection it is best to get tax advice in writing. You may be relieved of tax, penalty, or interest charges that are due on a transaction or activity if the Board determines that you reasonably relied on written advice from the Board regarding the transaction or activity.

For this relief to apply, a request for advice must be in writing, identify the taxpayer or feepayer to whom the advice applies, and fully describe the facts and circumstances of the transaction or activity.

For written advice,

- Write to the appropriate department (see the next column for addresses), or
- Go online to send us an e-mail (<http://www.boe.ca.gov/info/email.html>)

Written advice provided to you in a prior audit may be relied upon as "written advice from the Board" if the prior audit contains written evidence that demonstrates that the issue in question was examined, either in a sample or actual review.
